Canterbury Hall.

The Canterbury still continues its successful tide. The diversified character of the entertainment, and the very excellent manner in which the artists render their several acts of performance, cannot fail to attract large andiences. A very extensive addition is made to the establishment to-day and to-morrow; Mr. Goodull, the celebrated violinist, takes charge of the orchestrato-night; and the very talented musicians employed, with such a leader, will of course rank second to no orchestra of like numbers in the country. To morrow, the entire front of the house is to be seated with handsome rosewood orchestra chairs, and the department in the rear, for boys, is to be done away with entirely. A large number of new artists make their debut, in addition to the present company.

To-night is the last night of many of the popular acts of performance. Canterbury Hall,

George Christy—the original and genuine George—and his excellent minstrel company will commence a series of pleasing entertainments at the Opera House, on Tenth street, between E and F, this evening. As the name of George Christy is as familiar as "household words," we may expect a perfect jam at his new Opera House to-night. Mr. E. Harian, considered the best fautist in this country, is attached to the instrumental corps of the company; also, the wonder"ell Japanese Tommy, who created such a gr. The act was committed on last Friday, but the villain was not caught until Tuesday afternoon. The charge was so fully substantiated that Justice Barnacle and the officers with great difficulty prevented the crowd from lynching him on the spot. He was committed for trial at the oriminal court.
